Genesee County, N.Y. -- On 9/10, the county legislature amended its tobacco retailing ordinance, but kept the ban on self-service displays. The amendments exempt cigar and pipe tobacco and ban vending machines in places minors are allowed. Since amendments were made, another public hearing is required and that will be held on 9/24. A vote is expected after the hearing. The Tobacco-Free Coalition once again showed up in force. This time the leader brought fewer folks, but still had about 25 people. The clerk said they all wore green shirts to be identified with the anti group.
Only one grocery store owner spoke. Other retailers may have been in attendance, but none signed up to speak.

Washington Township, N.J. -- The township council will hold a public hearing on 9/15 on a proposal to ban self-service displays of tobacco products. A vote is expected after the hearing.
Elizabeth Gallagher will handle meeting notification for small group of retailers.
